

SIKESTON STANDARD

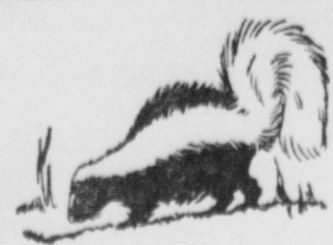

Southeast Missouri's Leading Semi-Weekly

VOLUME 28

SIKESTON, SCOTT COUNTY, MISSOURI

TUESDAY, MAY 3, 1938

NUMBER 63

THE P. C.
EDITOR
SAYS—

From Jefferson City we have had two visits from a newspaper man and a high-type gentleman with the idea of purchasing The Standard and giving the readers a real newspaper. The proposition seemed very flattering to a 75-year-old boy, but when the matter was submitted to a council of war consisting of the Missus and four of our five sons, the proposition was unanimously voted down. So that's that. What time is yet allotted to us to move about and retain our ordinary faculties, we shall try to make the best of it, look on the bright side of things, stand by our friends right or wrong, and throw the hooks into our enemies if we can.

Already publicity is being sent out to visit the playgrounds of the Ozarks, which is fine. As Sikeston is the eastern gateway to the Ozarks, The Standard takes this opportunity to invite visitors headed that way who pass through Sikeston to stop over in this city for a day or two and visit the points of interest in Sikeston and vicinity and to especially note the wonderful strides we have made the past season to merit the claim of "the fastest growing city in the Central West." To note the new business buildings in course of construction, the public library, the armory and municipal building combined, the Mansion de Coleman, the Board of Public Works Municipal plant, the beautiful homes, the paved streets, our educational institutions, our churches and The Standard Art Gallery. If you stop in Sikeston you will find good hotel and restaurant accommodations and genuine Southern hospitality. What more could be desired?

It was The Standard editor's pleasure to be one of the three hundred who gathered at the St. Mary's School Auditorium Thursday night to hear the fast stepping review of advertising merchandising plans for their spring and summer business put on by officials of the Standard Oil Co. Following the two hour program prepared by the officials, the crowd seated at the banquet tables where a spread was served by the ladies of the St. Mary's parish. During the meal a very enjoyable floor show was given. From Sikeston just about all the Standard Oil employees from in and about the city were present and we feel certain the meeting was worth a lot to them. This meeting was held in Cape Girardeau.

The Standard's polecat was at the pet stock show at the High School grounds Friday afternoon, but was not in line and raised no stink about it.

Southeast Missouri farmers are not at all satisfied with farm allotments, even if they knew what they are. If we were a Southeast Missouri farmer, and had good corn land, we would plant all we could possibly tend, buy stock hogs and feed it out. If there was a penalty on selling them, then we would butcher them, cure the meat and sell it that way. Down here now we have to get to Kentucky and Tennessee to get country cured hams and hog jowls. If there was still a penalty on retailing home cured meat, we would eat all the hams we could and give the balance away.

A man was driving by the asylum at Farmington with a load of manure when an inmate asked him what he was going to do with it. "Put it on my strawberries," was the answer. "Well, I declare, I put sugar and cream on mine and they have me in the asylum."

Atlanta, Ga., claims to be the biggest meat auction market in the world where approximately 40,000 are auctioned off each year. Dr. L. B. Adams, who is now with the U. S. Government and stationed in Georgia, sent R. D. Clayton an invitation to be present at some of these auctions and sends him a magazine containing pictures and description of a real meat sale.

"Blessed are the merchants who advertise, for they have faith in their business, and their prosperity shall increase manifold. Blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or a wedding, for she shall see the details and names of her guests correctly reported. Blessed are those who do not expect the editor to know everything, but who tell him whenever an interesting event occurs in which they are interested, for they shall have a better newspaper in their town. Blessed are they who get their copy in early, for they shall occupy a warm space in the editor's heart. Blessed are they who cooperate with the editor in his efforts in behalf of the community, for their town shall be known to all men, far and wide, as a good place in which to live and do business. Blessed are they who do not think they could run the paper better than the editor runs it—yea, thrice blessed are they because they are so few of them in the community."—St. Genevieve Herald.

When Passenger Engine Tangled With Freight Train

The Frisco flyer's locomotive on the Memphis, which smacked into the rear portion of a freight train here early Thursday morning, found the going somewhat tough and took the easiest way out by hopping the tracks and digging into the right-of-way.

Wrecking Cranes Pry Loose Engine From Mother Earth

Digging a monster locomotive out of hole in the ground is a man-sized job—or rather, a two-wrecking-crane-sized job.

When the engine pulling "The Memphis" smacked into the unhooked rear of Freight Train 833 at the north edge of town Thursday morning, showering the caboose and three freight cars all over the right-of-way, it hopped the tracks and buried its nose deep in Scott County topsoil.

Acting as a first-class plow, the cowcatcher furrowed down until the boiler was level with the ground. This was the predicament that faced two wrecking cranes from Chaffee who had to get the engine back on the tracks.

By 9 a. m. Thursday the baggage car that left the rails was back on the tracks and by noon the 100-foot strip of torn rail was repaired. But the biggest task was to come.

Oddly enough, it took much more effort to remove the tender than the engine. The tender was cut loose with a blow torch and one of the cranes went to work on the engine. As it was raised—the one crane lifting the huge iron horse—rail ties and other timber was thrown into the watery hole dug by the passenger locomotive. Slowly the engine was moved toward the tracks and by 6 p. m. it stood on the rails it had left so abruptly 15 hours before.

Trucks of the tender were imbedded so deeply in the ground that, while the cranes lifted the tank somewhat, it was cut loose from the wheels. A short flat-car was placed between the cranes and the job of hoisting the big tank began. Once it swung against the side of the flat-car and knocked one end of the car's bed loose from its supporting truck. Finally, the tank was placed on the car, but the bed and tank were both out of balance, and when one crane let out slack the tank and flat-car bed toppled over to the east side and came to rest against a wrecked boxcar. By 10 p. m., however, the situation was well in hand.

The mortal remains of the passenger locomotive were hauled off to Chaffee and the cranes worked until Friday morning salvaging the splintered boxcars.

Frisco officials at Chaffee Saturday morning still declined to make any statement on the cause of the wreck.

The condition of J. J. Baker, fireman who jumped before the crash, was not considered serious at the St. Louis hospital where he was taken.

Promoter Broaches Plan for Private Medical Clinic Here

In the midst of a drive for a large hospital here through aid from a welfare foundation, a proposal to establish a clinic of specialists here was advanced here to John A. Young, chairman of the drive, and his advisory committee, Mrs. Eleanor Matthews and Drs. H. M. Kendig and T. C. McClure.

A man from St. Cloud, Minn., familiar with the famed Mayo Brothers Clinic at Rochester, Minn., brought to the local leaders the proposition for a clinic, to be established with the aid of several physicians from Minnesota. Part of the funds, around $50,000 would be supplied by the city, another $50,000 by the physicians and promoter, and the WPA could probably furnish $150,000, according to Charles Blanton, Jr., assistant district administrator.

Sikeston was selected, the promoter said, because of its central position.

When he came to Sikeston, the man said he was not aware that this city had on a drive for a hospital. With a large clinic of noted specialists here, he reasoned, the institution would attract wealthy clients from many parts of the United States.

Those engaged in the hospital drive, however, are still engaged in fulfilling the terms of the application for the institution which would be supported by an Eastern foundation. They intend to push this campaign for they feel it has better possibilities, with provisions for a nurses' home and training school, internships, and treatment for indigent people of the territory.

The committee would have the clinic idea to fall back on and investigate thoroughly if, for some reason, the present drive does not materialize.

Patrol Officer's Home Prey of "Cat" Burglar's Tactics

The "cat" burglar, whose raids on Sikeston homes have come at regular intervals, made his boldest venture Saturday night.

He entered the home of Sergeant R. R. Reed of the State Highway Patrol, 411 Dorothy Street, and stole the officer's service pistol. He also carried off a 21-jewel Hamilton watch and $18 in cash.

Esther Jane Greer Hurt in Car Wreck

Miss Esther Jane Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moore Greer, suffered a fractured shoulder blade in an automobile wreck Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the Cape Rock Drive, out of Cape Girardeau.

Miss Greer and a party of three other Sikeston High School students were in the 1938 Oldsmobile driven by Miss Helen Fisher of Morehouse, a schoolmate and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Fisher.

The five had visited Cape Rock taking the south drive in, and on returning to Highway 61 by the north route, Miss Fisher was unaware of a sharp turn that lay just over a hill. She slammed on the brakes and the car skidded and rolled over down an embankment. A small clump of trees prevented it from making a complete turn over or rolling to the bottom of the embankment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ely Williams of Sikeston took Miss Greer to St. Francis Hospital at Cape Girardeau and she returned home late in the evening.

Windows in the car was shattered and the body and fenders badly crumpled.

Other passengers were Miss Catherine Ann Cook, daughter of Mrs. O. T. Elder; Miss Mary Jane Sikes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sikes, and Miss Mary Louise Montgomery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Montgomery.

ed from a home in the rear of the Keller residence.

Usually choosing Saturday nights, the cat burglar has made several forays into Sikeston dwellings, brazenly entering bedrooms where occupants are sleeping and making petty thefts of cash and jewelry. One night half a dozen homes were entered and in two or three instances the intruder, plainly observed as a negro, was frightened away.

James H. Inman, an early settler in this vicinity, at 11:15 o'clock Sunday morning at his home, 305 Moore Avenue, of infirmities of old age. He had been bedfast the past three months and previously was in ill health for two years.

Mr. Inman would have been 82 on May 27.

He was born in Tennessee in 1856 near Memphis and came to this section when about 8 years old. Until around 1890 he lived in the McMullin vicinity and then moved to a farm in what is now Sunset Addition. He was a resident of Scott County for more than 70 years.

He was chiefly engaged in farming, although from 1918 to 1926 he was associated with is sons, Lige and John Inman, in operating the Sikeston Laundry.

He was a member of the Methodist Church for more than 50 years.

In 1879 he was married to Miss Mary E. Foley at Richwoods (McMullin).

He is survived by four children, Lige and John Inman and Mrs. Frances Moody of this city, and Earl Inman of Cape Girardeau; two half-sisters, Mrs. Joe Marshall of Crowder and Mrs. Gus Sasse of Greenville, Miss.; a half-brother, Will Barnes of Windfall, Ind., nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, at the home, Rev. John L. Taylor in charge, and interment with Albritton service will be in Memorial Park.

COAST GUARDSMEN GOING TO ALASKA

Joe Cravens, who has been here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Cravens, for the past two weeks, expects to leave Friday for Two Harbors, Minn., where he will board the Coast Guard cutter "Diligence," for a cruise to Alaska. Joe has been with the Coast Guard for the past eleven months.

BABY BURNED WHEN CANDY PAN FALLS

Billy, 9-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester LeGrand, of Vernon Avenue, was badly burned Friday evening about the face, shoulder and arm when a pan of cooking candy fell from a stove. The infant was treated by Dr. H. M. Kendig.

Cement Being Laid On Scott St. Job

WPA pavers have laid a half-strip of cement for six blocks on Scott Street from Murray Lane to Shelby, two blocks south of their goal at Malone Avenue. As soon as the present laying is completed, the other half of the street will be poured. Work should be finished in 15 or 20 days, according to Leon Groves, WPA supervisor.

Next paving will be done on Moore east from Tanner Street, making this avenue paved to the Missouri Pacific tracks, according to Mr. Groves.

Curb and gutter work will be started soon, Mr. Groves said, but the location has not been decided. Thirty per cent of the brick work is completed on the armory project, he said.

The WPA head expected to have a slate roof job on the Library completed by Monday night, thus completing the exterior work. Plastering on the inside is scheduled to begin this week.

Hostess At Surprise Dinner

Mrs. Tom Gardner entertained at her home south of Sikeston Sunday, with a surprise dinner in honor of the birth anniversaries of her mother, Mrs. M. E. Prouty and George W. Taylor of New Madrid. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Traylor, son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker, Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of East Prairie; Mrs. Rud E. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Traylor, New Madrid; Mrs. S. T. Burch, Mr. and Mrs. George Ellerbrook and the Rev. and Mrs. Robt. Burch, of Matthews; Mrs. Prouty and Mr. and Mrs. Gardner.

SALEDURO CHURCH TO HAVE FULL DAY OF SERVICES

All day services will be held at the Saleduro Assembly of God Church Sunday, with dinner on the grounds. A special Mother's Day program will be given at the evening service. Everybody welcome.—Mrs. Lela Riley, Pastor.

Mrs. F. D. Lair Entertains Charleston Club

Mrs. F. D. Lair was hostess to the Needle Work Club of Charleston of which she is a member, at her home on North Kingshighway, Monday afternoon. The guests were Mrs. John Hoggie, Mrs. Charles Heckenbough, Mrs. W. S. Love, Mrs. Sue Reid, Mrs. J. L. Byrd, Mrs. Ella Deal, Mrs. J. M. Haw, Mrs. C. W. Reid, Mrs. Buckner Ragsdale, Mrs. Tom Ogilvie, Mrs. H. M. Brown, Mrs. Ella Hutton, all of Charleston, and Mrs. E. H. Orear of Malden.

TO OPEN REA POWER LINE BIDS THURSDAY

Bids on the construction of the REA power line for the Scott-New Madrid-Mississippi County Cooperative Assn. will be opened at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, May 5, at the Marshall Hotel. The date previously set was for April 28. It is thought the $157,000 project for 171-mile will be let in three or four sections.

Pets on Parade as Kiddies Rummage Yards for Show

The High School football field Friday afternoon looked like Noe's Ark had just hove into port and unloaded.

For the widest assortment of living creatures since Noah's ark, the seven seas were assembled for a gigantic pet show, arranged by Miss Myra Tanner with the assistance of other Public School faculty members. Students from all schools took part.

It was the biggest thing since P. T. Barnum advertised the biggest show on earth. Tiny tots and strapping youths brought everything from goldfish to horses. Dogs? There were dogs of all shapes, sizes, makes and models—big dogs, little dogs, long dogs, dogs built close to the ground, dogs that wouldn't stay put and a bird dog that pointed a couple of pet pigeons.

The pet show came on short notice, but it was advertised around through the schools Friday morning and the big spring round-up in doghouse, backyards, chicken pens and other habitats of pets took place. By actual count, there were 128 assorted entries. Judged by Mrs. Lee Bowman and Mrs. R. A. Harper, the following five winners were selected:

Cutest pet—Ed Dan Renner's black-faced lamb that was an enthusiastic bottle baby.

Smallest pet—Ida Mae Fowler's goldfish, which would have been bait for a good-sized minnow.

Largest pet—Joe Baker's horse. It pulled a buggy along.

Prettiest pet—Thelma Crawford's white and black rabbit.

Most unusual pet—Owen James Deal's mole. He dropped it and it immediately started submerging in the football field.

Dogs by far are the most popular pet, if the show as any criterion, and kittens are next. For instance, there were the Scottie, bird dogs of the setter and pointer variety and a basket of nine bird dog pups, Spitz, black and brown chow, a snappy Pekinese that drew around a led in overalls, sapials of many color schemes with plenty of ears, bulldogs of sundry sizes, a great Dane that required two youngsters to lead him along, a St. Bernard and a number of fox terriers, including one that wasn't even invited but came to the show anyway, without a boss. Then there were a large yapping flock of dogs of thoroughly democratic origin—just plain dog.

Other pets included a lizard on the leash; black, white and brown rabbits; innumerable kittens, including one old tabby with a handful of nursing little ones; several bowls of goldfish, which the kittens eyed maliciously; another black sheep, two frisky goats almost black and a brown goat, a roan pony and three Shetland ponies; chickens—baby chicks, bantams, frying-size fowl and a Chinese fluff; a parrot that said, "Polly want's a cracker," and whistled on request; several turtles, a large duck, a baby pig with a lusty squeal, an allegator and a salamander. There was also a coaster wagon gaily decorated in crepe paper with an umbrella standing upright. Beneath the umbrella was a young miss in a rabbit's costume nibbling a lollipop.

There were a few calamities of a minor nature. One tiny little girl's baby chick jumped out of its Easter egg basket and it took expert adult hands to retrieve the chick. Another bantam went scurrying across the football field and its owner in hard pursuit. One or two dogs, more of the globe-trotting type, weren't content to stay put and broke away for wider fields. All in all, however, the line of pets and their masters that strung almost the length of the football field gave the audience of 500 plenty of laughs.

Sikeston Independents Down Strong Paducah Team, 15-10

Paducah's ball club found plenty of steam in the bats of the Sikeston Independents Sunday, for the newly organized club under Gord Dill pounded out 17 hits to win their initial contest of the season, 15-10, at the Baseball Park. Paducah, a member of the Kitty League, has a strong team and the local victory certainly must have been an upset to the outsiders.

Sikeston's win came the hard way. After piling up a 6-0 lead in the first five innings, Paducah rebounded for nine runs in the next three innings and took over a 9-8 lead in their part of the eighth. This was short-lived, though, for the Independent swatters came through for seven runs their next time at bat.

The game turned into a slugfest after "Hawkeye" Kimball, Bloomfield hurler, shut out Paducah for the first five frames, without a hit or run. He asked to be taken out because he was not in the best of condition. Paducah then touched Harry "Lefty" Stacy and Carl Eaton for seven hits in the next three innings and gained nine runs, while Sikeston was picking up two, and the locals went to bat in the eighth a score in arrears.

In the explosive eighth, Sikeston batted 12 men in gaining the seven runs. Billy Roberts, the Matthews flash, got two singles during this spree, and hits were also made by Dace, Eaton, Crane and Lester King, another Matthews player. King and Eaton's hits were doubles. Three errors and a walk also helped the cause along.

Rance Sherry, veteran Vanduser hurler, who took over in the middle of the eighth for Sikeston, held Paducah to a hit and a run in the final frame.

Altogether, Paducah got eight hits. Evidently Matthews grows good hitters, for Roberts landed four hits in six tries and King swatted four safeties in five trips to the plate. Hughes, Fuller and Fields of Paducah got two bingles out of four attempts.

Kimball will be on deck next Sunday when the West Frankfort, Ill., team plays here. West Frankfort is reputed to have five former minor league players in its club and is said to be one of Southern Illinois' strongest.

A healthy crowd witnessed the fray. There were 184 paid admissions at the gate, in addition to an advance sale of tickets.

Commercial Club to Issue Query to Business Offices

When the High School Commercial Club circulates in business offices this week questionnaires concerning stenographic help, undoubtedly a closer contact with the business men of the city will be effected.

The club, organized two months ago, will submit a list of questions in which it hopes to learn the qualities the business heads desire most in their office employees and the sheet will also check on the kind of office equipment used.

Among the queries will be: The number of employees who are graduates of Sikeston High School.

The number from other institutions.

What shortcomings are generally found in the workers what should be done to correct them.

Subject that might be added to the commercial student's curriculum in increase his office efficiency.

Number of typewriters in the office and their make.

Number of mimeograph's used.

The questionnaire is sponsored by Miss Daisy Evans and Miss

Army Worms Menace Crop

An abnormally early attack of army worms on wheat fields in this section has been voiced by farmers who fear the crop may be destroyed.

"Black land" farms around Sikeston, particularly those to the north, have felt the ravages of this pest for almost a week, and some see as the only solution to the problem a poison attack by airplane.

Coming approximately 20 days earlier than the ordinary appearance, according to Theodore Hopper, who farms four miles north of the city on Highway 61, the hordes of worms stand fair to destroy the wheat. Usually the worms are first noticed around May 20, and by this date wheat has headed and only the green leaf on the stalk suffers. Under present conditions the head can be devoured also unless drastic steps are taken, said Mr. Hopper.

The solution would be a poison spray from an airplane cotton sprayer. The plane would be obtained from Memphis.

However, Lyman Bowman, manager of the Scott County Milling Co., said the mill could not undertake to buy any poison-sprayed wheat unless the Bureau of Food and Drugs of the U. S. Department of Agriculture said the wheat would not be harmful for human consumption. If the sprayed wheat was pronounced non-poisonous for humans, he would buy it, he said.

The army worms made their appearance in fields with the stubble of previous rye, barley and wheat crops.

Leonard McMullin told Mr. Hopper it would require approximately five pounds of poison per acre. A pound of poison costs about 8 cents, and the plane charge is 5 cents per pound for distribution. The total cost is about 75 cents per acre.

If the wheat is to be saved, action must be taken immediately, Mr. Hooper warned.

County Agent F. J. Veatch, Jr., when consulted Monday morning, told Mr. Bowman he thought the airplane spray inadvisable to use on wheat.

It is being placed on the ground beneath the wheat. This does not come in contact with the grain and cannot prove injurious to those who eat the wheat products.

DIES IN WASHINGTON: BODY HERE FOR RITES

The remains of Mrs. Edith Kingsolving, 23 years old, who died at 8 a. m. Friday in Washington, D. C., arrived here at 3:41 o'clock Monday morning on the Frisco for services and burial.

Mrs. Kingsolving was found dead of asphyxiation by gas in a room of her home in Washington, where she was employed.

She was born Feb. 29, 1915, at McMullin and attended school at Morehouse.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Collier of near Sikeston; a sister, Betty Lou Collier, at home, and a brother, Wilson Norman of New York City.

Mrs. Floyd Collins, Mrs. Tom Dobson, and Mrs. Ora Fansler of Sikeston, and Mrs. Harry Hunter of Morehouse, are aunts, and Kirby Edmondson of this city is an uncle.

Rites will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of D. C. Collier, near Sikeston, by Rev. Finis Jones of this city, and interment with Albritton service will be in the Sikeston City Cemetery.

FIRE CALL MONDAY

The Fire Department was called at 8 a. m. Monday to the home of Dean Marshall, 811 Greer, where an electric wire in a wall partition caught fire and smoked for some time. Damage was slight.

Electa O'Hara of the commercial department.

Through a Wisconsin agency, each student in the club has contacted some other commercial student by mail and will carry on correspondence during the summer months in shorthand to keep in practice. Letters will go to distant parts of the United States.

The questions, which will go to the offices of every factory, agency and business firm in the city, should go out Tuesday. This is the first time such a move has been tried in Sikeston and may result in a number of local students obtaining employment here.

We were very sorry to hear of the auto wreck Sunday near Cape Girardeau in which several of our Sikeston girls were badly shaken up and one quite badly injured. While the car was smashed we are happy that no deaths occurred. Personally we know nothing of the particulars or what caused the accident, but trust fast driving was not the reason.

SUNDAY, MAY 8

You will want to look your best on this day, and one of our Permanent will help more than any other one thing. Your Mother would appreciate one of these as a Gift for Mother's Day.

THE TINY BEAUTY SALON

Behold the Fisherman! — He riseth up early in the morning and disturbeth the whole household... mightily are his preparations... he goeth forth full of hope... and when the day is far spent, he returneth smelling of strong drink... and the truth is not in him!

Those of you who like home-made candy let me tell you who is just about the best fudge maker in the city. It is Josephine Shuppert and her phone number is 163 and the price will be 50 cents per pound.

WHAT WE GOT FOR OUR 16 BILLION DOLLAR RELIEF

David Lawrence says he tried to learn what became of the 16 billion dollars we spent for relief under the New Deal and found no trace, except that the banks have 17½ billion dollars more in deposits than they had in June, 1933. He reasons we got nothing for those billions and that further pump priming will be abortive of good. Mr. Lawrence can't see the forest for the trees.

We exchanged social and economic disorders of 1932 approaching the revolutionary for normal public order. We obtained a supreme court of the United States no longer dedicated to the exploitation of human beings and of the financially weak. We fed, clothed, housed and educated millions of the dependent. We provided the greatest credit basis and the lowest interest rates any nation in history achieved. We insured the average citizen's bank deposit. We gained the greatest buying power in a half-decade, solid purchasing ability in contrast with the inflationary one of 1929. We set America on its feet, socially, economically, financially and morally.

We placed an additional 1,729,872 workers in the $1,000 to $5,000 salary class in 1936, as compared to the "boom" year of 1929, leaving one-ninth of our gainfully employed within that category with decent standards of living, the total being 4,793,573. In the five years of the New Deal, our added national income alone totaled four times the 16 billion dollars we spent. The addition to our federal debt is owed to Americans, its increment being an exact offset nationally to its liability. This in addition to the 17½ billion dollars Mr. Lawrence found in our banks. We instituted old age pensions and other social securities.

We provided hundreds of millions of dollars for CCC youths and their families. We lifted agriculture from its grave by farm relief, a start toward control of wind and water erosion, electrification, forestry and technical training and experiment, leaving it an assured program of permanent welfare. We built thousands of miles of federal highways and aided in the furtherance of many more miles of county, state and farm-to-market roads. We saved the farms and homesteads of ¼ million farmers by low-interest, long-period, amortized loans. We did as well by an equal number of urban dwellers. We made it possible for another ¼ million families to gain farms and homes. We aided farm and other cooperatives.

We spent many millions on our army and navy to make us impregnable to possible foes. We erected hundreds of great federal buildings. We aided in the construction of numerous community structures, giving thousands of the skilled employment over years. We aided in building common and high schools, with street paving, parks, boulevards, swimming pools and other conveniences and necessities. We lifted the face of every hamlet, town, city and metropolis with a modernity they would not have had otherwise in half a century. You will find your 16 billions at every side. Mr. Lawrence. And a nation, transformed mentally, spiritually and physically, still at peace with itself and the world.—Wm. P. Harvey.

Clyde Reed spent the week end with his parents in Bloomfield. Miss Bessie Sandusky of Lexington, Ky., Mrs. John Hozier and Mrs. E. L. Harrison of Memphis were guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. T. F. Henry, one day last week.

Summer Clinic for Children Planned

May 1 being Child Health Day, the first week in May was deemed an especially appropriate time for the Sikeston Parent-Teacher Association to begin work on its own special child health project, the Summer Round-Up of the children.

This program is carried on all over the nation during the month of May by local P.-T. A. units. It is the major health activity of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Last year the Sikeston unit undertook this project and was awarded a national certificate for its satisfactory completion according to national standards.

Detailed plans are to be made early this week and will be presented at the P.-T. A. meeting Thursday.

Physicians and dentists of the community are being interviewed and thus far have agreed to help in every way possible with this educational health program.

Under the round-up plan all children of age to enter school next fall will be given a free medical and dental examination this spring so that all remediable defects may be found and corrected during the summer months.

The purpose of the round-up is to send to school an opening class as free as possible from defects and as well-protected as possible against serious communicable disease.

PRE-SCHOOL SECTION IN SESSION TUESDAY

At the May meeting of the Pre-School P.-T. A. unit to be held Tuesday night, May 3 at 7:30 at the Home Economics Cottage, Mrs. R. A. Harper will present two lessons from the study courses for mothers of young children. These are, "Children Like to Mind" and "Outgrowing the Family."

Mrs. Wm. Mahew president will be in charge of the business session.

Hostesses for the meeting are Mrs. Lynn Ancell, Mrs. Vernon Green, Mrs. Gene Bowman and Mrs. Hubert Keasler.

"VACATIONS, VOCATIONS" WILL BE P.-T. A. TOPIC

At the last P.-T. A. meeting of the year to be held Thursday, May 5 at 3:30 at the South Grade School, the program will be on the subject "After Commencement What?" Mrs. M. M. Duncan will be in charge and Principal Wm. E. Mahew will be a speaker.

In observance of Child Health Day, a few minutes will be devoted to this subject and health posters prepared by Miss Lucille Finley's room will be exhibited. Summer round-up plans will be presented.

Sixth grade children of the South Grade School under Miss Wilma Ragains' direction will sing one of the P.-T. A. songs, entitled "The Tree of the P.-T. A."

As is customary, a book prize will be awarded to the room with the best attendance of parents. New officers will be installed and all members and friends of the organization are urged to be present to give the new officers their support.

All parents with children entering school next fall are giving an especial invitation to attend.

INDIGENT STUDENT ADD FUND SOUGHT

As part of its program of Student Aid P.-T. A. officers are planning to raise a fund for medical and dental care for needy school children. A project for raising funds this spring will be presented at the P.-T. A. meeting Thursday, as some funds will be needed to take care of defects uncovered this month during the Summer Round-Up examinations in indigent cases.

It is the hope of the Student Aid Committee and officers that a permanent fund may be maintained for this purpose.

GREYHOUNDS TRAVELS IN HIGH SPEED GEAR

Jefferson City, April 29.—How fast is a fox?

With relative speeds being considered a factor in modern motor cars, boats and airplanes, wildlife students have started an appraisal of the speeds of game birds and animals.

With a new set of figures available it appears that a fox has a four-mile edge on the average fox hound but would be an almost certain loser in a race against a first class greyhound. Figures recently published by one wildlife expert list the fox as having a speed of twenty-six miles an hour which is faster than the speed of a coyote but slower than that of a jack rabbit. An animal handicap is set as follows:

Grey wolf 20 miles per hour
Fox 26 miles per hour
Fox hound 22 miles per hour
Jack rabbit 28 miles per hour
Greyhound 30 miles per hour
Antelope 32 miles per hour

The figures are computed for the first mile's running time. It's anyone's race after that, apparently.

AGE OF THE EARTH FIXED AT 13,900,000,000 YEARS

Washington, April 29.—The earth is about 13,900,000,000 years older than previously supposed. Dr. Alois F. Kovarik and Dr. N. I. Adams Jr. of Yale University told the American Physical Society today.

They used three radioactive elements—radium, thorium and uranium—and checked one against the other. The old determination, using only radium, indicated the earth was between 300,000,000 and 1,850,000,000 years old.

The new determination fixes the age of 13,900,000,000 years. The origin of primitive life on the earth is estimated at 1,500,000,000 years ago.

Wild geese do not breed until they are at least two years old, the non-breeders remaining in sociable flocks while the birds of an older generation are hatching eggs and caring for young. During the moulting season, which lasts for a month or so, geese are unable to fly and depend on hiding instead of flight for protection.

Magistrate: "This man's watch was fastened in his pocket by a safety chain. How did you manage to get it out?"

Pickpocket: "My fee, your honor, is three bucks for the full course of six lessons."

To make a sure-fire hit as an after-dinner speaker, you only need to say, "Keep your hands out of your pockets, boys; this feed is on me."

A SELECTED EDITORIAL

Democrats have gone defeatist! That's the headline we give the folk who continually talk "business is poor" and "things are going to the dogs." Unconsciously, the very people who should be defending the purposes and principles which, if carried through, will eventually save this country from the very ruin a biased, subsidized press is predicting, are driving those purposes to the wall of defeat. This is the time when all Americans should be selling America to Americans.

Because the press of a party which is eternally opposed to the welfare of the poor and of the farmer is using a wedge which it has been able to put into the aims and high intentions of those who have always pledged themselves as the friends of the forgotten man, using it with a viciousness that is little short of treason, the foolish followers who won't think for themselves or stay loyal to their highest purposes, are helping spread a pall of gloom, thus falling right in with the purpose of the press.

If you have the slightest inclination to go "defeatist", just think of the hopelessness of mind, the heartlessness of labor without compensation, the misery of metal subjugation and frustration of family life and happiness that exists in countries where the sensible-minded have allowed partisan politics to uproot all the liberty and privileges that was theirs. What if we do have to pay taxes— isn't that better than revolution? —Weston Chronicle.

SERVICES HELD FOR LEITHERLAND BABY

Bonnie Marie Leitherland, 2-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Leitherland, died early Sunday morning. Funeral services were conducted from their residence on Wilson Avenue Sunday afternoon. Interment was in Carpenter Cemetery with Welsh Service.

In the absence of a canvass of Missouri members of the lower house of Congress as to their positions on President Roosevelt's proposal to follow the Constitution and tax incomes "from whatever source derived" by imposing this tax on all federal and state officials and employees, it is taken as assured the Democratic members will follow Senators Clark and Truman in standing shoulder to shoulder with the president. It is repugnant in a democracy to have employees of the governments themselves free of duties which fall on all other citizens.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES WANTED BY MARINE CORPS.

Kansas City, April 29.—It was announced today by Captain J. P. Schwering, Officer in Charge, United States Marine Corps Recruiting Station, 529 New Post Office Building, Kansas City, Missouri.

9 series of meetings will be held throughout the county starting Thursday May 5 to discuss acreage allotments for 1938, according to County Agent Broom, New Madrid County Farm advisor.

It will be impossible to take up individual farm allotments and questions as time will not permit. But general explanations as to what the allotments mean and how 1938 operations may be handled will be discussed. Also, what crops may be grown and how used on other than allotted acreage will be explained.

Payments will be discussed and explained in so far as it is possible to do so at this time.

It is realized that farmers are very busy and that day meetings at this time of the year are not so satisfactory. But in order to be of all the assistance possible in helping to determine your operations without further delay, it is necessary to hold both day and night meetings.

If you plan to attend these meetings with the idea of having your allotments changed or working out of each and every individual problem then you will be disappointed. But it is felt that much help may be had in a general way.

The following are the dates and places:

Lilbourn High School—Thursday, May 5, 7:30 p. m.

New Madrid Court House—Thursday, May 5, 7:30 p. m.

Matthews Gym—Friday, May 6, 9:00 a. m.

The aims of the Missouri Unemployment Compensation Law, in effect since June 17, 1937, are to stabilize employment; to build up a fund for the payment of weekly benefits to eligible unemployed workers; and to stabilize business by maintaining workers' purchasing power.

Under the Missouri Unemployment Compensation Law all employers who have eight or more workers for some portion of a day in each of twenty different weeks of a year, and their workers, are covered, except in the following exempt employments: Agricultural labor, domestic service in private homes, officers or members of the crew of a vessel, family employment, state, municipal or federal government employment, and certain non-profit organizations.

The Marine Corps is offering to these young men an opportunity to continue their education if they so desire while receiving a regular income.

This organization is known as "The best educated military service in the world." The reason for this characterization is that the Marine Corps has established in Washington, D. C., The Marine Corps Institute, thru which a Marine may take up any course of study for which he is qualified without any expense to himself. At the completion of the selected course of diploma is awarded. If a young man finds he is without funds to continue his studies, this is his opportunity. Accounting, Agriculture, Architecture, Automobile, Aviation, College Courses, Business Management, Chemistry and Pharmacy, Civil, Structural Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, Languages, Radio, and Civil Service are some of the courses offered.

If, after entering the Marine Corps, a young man decides to make service in that Corps his career, he has the opportunity of promotion, with pay ranging up to $157.00 per month, and, after completing thirty years of service, he may retire with an assured income for the balance of his life as high as $134.00 per month. This amounts to $1,608.00 per year and is equal to 6% on a life savings of $26,800.00.

Washington Comment

When the President sets sail from Charleston the end of this week for his fishing trip, he will have completed two messages to Congress his legislative program; thus, the problem of adjournment is now up to Congress very definitely "rarin' to go." Hope for a May adjournment is just about gone, the Vice President himself having anticipated a postponement until June 1st at the very least . . . and Mr. Garner is practically unequalled as an adjournment prophet; it is said that when he buys his railroad ticket for home, whether adjournment is "in the bag" or not. Of course, it is the "pump priming" program that has thrown the monkey wrench into the machinery. And from day to day the Democrats get into wordy brawls that delay the course of legislation. It is said that the passage of the "pump priming" plan depends largely on an aroused public sentiment. If telegrams and letters roll in, couched in the same hostile terms of the reorganization and court rebellion, opponents of the New Deal in the Senate will make every effort to defeat the bill. Some mail definitely "agin" the plan, has already been received, but New Deal defenders claim it is in the same category as the reorganization letter-and-wire flood, which included protests "signed by minor children, babes in arms, and even the family pet poodle." If public sentiment is a pathetic about the "pump priming," chances are there won't be much of a Senate fight—only an effort to earmark the spending. The House, meanwhile, is mopping up its secondary legislation this week, preparatory to rolling up its sleeves and digging in, when the spending bill reaches it. There will probably be every effort to accomplish a lot in the closing weeks to make up for a four-months' session undistinguished by any notable accomplishments; only three major bills—housing, farm, and emergency relief—have been enacted. House members are busy getting their alibis for the reorganization bill failure into the Congressional Record before they go home and face constituents, who have an embarrassing habit of asking why their favorite son voted for or against it—just to be on the safe side if it should become an issue in the 1938 campaign.

As a subject for liberal discussion around Washington, the predictions of fifty-eight political authorities—48 leading newspaper correspondents and 10 politicians—on the outcome of the Congressional elections have achieved fame. Results give the Democrats 271 seats in the next House,

TRUST FUND TOTALS $14,100,000 AT THIS TIME

Jefferson City, Mo., April 29.—The Missouri Unemployment Compensation Commission recently transferred $300,000 to the U. S. Treasury's unemployment trust fund, according to R. J. Morrison, chief accountant, who said the deposit placed Missouri's account at $14,100,000.

Accrued interest earnings of the Missouri fund from Jan. 18, when the account was opened, to March 31 is estimated by the Treasury Department to be $48,558.44 and will be credited to the Missouri fund.

Unemployment trust funds better created in the national treasury by all states and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii earned $4,357,801.68 during the quarter ending March 31. Each state is paid interest on the average daily balance in its trust fund, the rate being the average rate of interest paid by the government on all its obligations.

Chief Accountant Morrison estimated that Missouri's trust fund would be in the neighborhood of $38,000,000 in January, 1939, when the first benefit payments can be made to eligible unemployed workers.

His estimate was based on the more than $13,000,000 collected from covered employers for 1937 who contributed at the rate of 1.8 per cent of their payrolls and $6,000,000, which includes accrued interest, paid to the federal government under the Social Security Act by Missouri employers at the rate of 1 per cent of their 1936 payrolls prior to the enactment of the state unemployment insurance law. It is understood this sum, which has never been turned over to the state, will ultimately be credited to the Missouri trust fund. The 1938 tax at 2.7 per cent is expected to yield about $20,000,000.

There can be no vindictiveness in having a sigh of satisfaction over action of the United States Appellate Court in upholding conviction of Mrs. Nellie Tipton Muench, her husband, Dr. Ludwig O. Muench, and Attorney Wilfred Jones. The infamous baby hoax case with all its ramifications merited the full punishment meted out to Mrs. Muench. Baby Procuver Jones was quite as culpable as the doctor-husband was a miserable but acquiescent pawn in the ill-ordered conspiracy. They will serve their prison terms—10 years each for Mrs. Muench and Jones, eight years for the doctor. The fourth defendant in the case, Mrs. Helen Derroyer, did not appeal and is serving five years in a federal reformatory. The appeals court rejected every argument as baseless, held the trio did violate the mail fraud statutes and gratuitously added they may also have been guilty of blackmail, extortion or some other state offense. District Attorney Blanton made his prosecution airtight, conferring a boon on the community. Mrs. Muench can't do much in federal durance to get her name in the papers. That in itself provides no insignificant relief.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Probably the only kind of business which the federal government does not patronize is that of newspapers. Recently a representative of the Internal Revenue office at Hannibal called upon us to ask that we send him a free copy of the Democrat every week. No doubt he called upon other newspapers. The only reason he had to offer for sending the paper to him without charge was that "no funds are provided for such an expense." There are a thousand or more people who would like to get the Democrat free and are doing without it because they have no funds to pay the subscription price. Week after week this office gets publicity from various government bureaus which is nothing more than advertising, and that old expression of "no funds provided," puts Uncle Sam on the begging list. The local postoffice, and we suppose all others, get letters from postal authorities urging them to contact the local papers for needed publicity, and often complain because they do not get it. Several Shelby merchants, close personal friends of the editor, do not get much free advertising of their business because they buy little paid advertising. We go on the theory that the individual, business house or public official who does not think enough of advertising to buy it, probably would not care to get any free. When we change our mind about this, our personal friends will benefit before the stranger organization which openly asks for it to be given without charge.—Shelby Democrat.

The decision of Prof. Garland Parker to accept the position offered by the school board of Sikeston, while a distinct gain for Sikeston, is Jackson's loss. In the one year he was connected with the Jackson schools he impressed all who got in touch with him as an earnest young man of unusual ability. CONTROLLING GARDEN PESTS

Indications are that gardeners in Scott County will have to take steps to protect their gardens from insects. There are two general types of insects that will have to be dealt with. Chewing insects can be identified by holes being eaten in the foliage of the plants the insects are found on. For this type of insect use 1 pound arsenate of lead or calcium arsenate to 5 pounds hydrated lime and dust plants thoroughly. Do not use arsenate of lead on bean foliage use calcium arsenate instead.

Some chewing insects that give trouble in early summer are, Colorado Potato beetle, striped cucumber beetle, harquin cabbage bug, squash bug, cabbage worms, flea beetle, and bean leaf beetle.

The other type of insects are those sucking juices and causing plants to wilt. For this type of insect use nicotine dust mixture. Mix 2 tablespoons of nicotine sulphate (Blackleaf 40) in 1 pint hydrated lime. Mix the nicotine and lime in a syrup pail with a tight lid. Six to eight small stones placed in the bucket will help mix the material. Apply the nicotine dust during the warm part of the day and when little wind is blowing. Better kill of insects will be accomplished if the dust is applied under a cloth cover on large can.

The Kansas City Boys' Orphan Home

The story of a man's devotion to his wife's unfulfilled ambition lies behind the dedication, on May 3, 1900, of the Perry Memorial Building of the Kansas City Boys' Orphan Home. That date, thirty-eight years ago this week, holds much significance in the history of this Kansas City institution.

Several years before, in 1895, Mrs. John Perry and a group of other Kansas City women realized the need for a home for the orphan boys of that city. They remodeled an old residence on Westport avenue and founded the Kansas City Boys' Orphan Home securing four daughters of Charity of the Order of St. Vincent de Paul from Emmitsburg, Maryland, to take charge. The Home was soon filled, and so many were turned away that Mrs. Perry and the rest of the group determined to secure a home that would accommodate 200 boys. The group worked diligently to maintain the home they had founded and it was rapidly growing when Mrs. Perry and her four children were lost in the Bourgoyne disaster in 1899. After the tragedy, to carry out his wife's unfinished plans, Mr. Perry gave $25,000 for the erection of a building at the Home as a memorial. Later he increased the contribution to $40,000. The building was completed in 1900.

For a time after the women organized the Home, it was financed by charity dinners and entertainments. A Labor Day picnic became an established affair, the net proceeds from one of the picnics being almost $3,000. In the fall of 1913, when Thomas F. Lillis became bishop of Kansas City, a campaign was started by the Knights of Columbus to raise $40,000 for the Kansas City Boys' Orphan Home and St. Anthony's Home for Infants. Bishop Lillis boldly raised the goal to $100,000, and assumed personal charge of the drive. $115,000 was pledged during this campaign, and over $112,000 was actually collected. This was the first drive to raise a large sum of money conducted in Kansas City, and many of the plans now in use in the annual charities campaign originated then.

One of the men contacted in the drive was Charles H. Sharp, a wealthy Kansas City business man, who responded to the invitation to help by sending a substantial contribution. A few weeks later he told the Bishop, "I am very much interested in that work, and if you ever need funds for the orphan boys' home again, I will feel hurt if I am not asked to give." At his death in 1915, Mr. Sharp bequeathed the income from the Sharp building in Kansas City, valued at $350,000, to his widow, with the provision that at her death the income was to go to the Kansas City Boys' Orphan Home. In 1927, when Mrs. Sharp died, the income from the building, then between $55,000 and $60,000, began to go to the home.

In 1926, when the Home was especially in need, Msgr. N. V. McKay, the spiritual director of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul and now pastor of St. Peter's parish formed an organization known as the Big Brothers. This group sponsored a Labor Day picnic and carnival on the grounds of the Home in 1925, and cleared $7,000 for the institution.

An average of 125 boys from five to fourteen years of age are cared for each year in the Kansas City Boys' Orphan Home. In April, 1934, Troop 166 of the Boy Scouts of America was organized, and the following year Sister Benigna, superior at the Home for forty years, secured the organization of the Orphan Sponsors among the members of the Knights of Columbus, to help the boys with the problems that face them upon leaving the Home.

PERTINENT PARAGRAPHS FROM PARIS APPEAL

The country seems to care very little whether Congress enacts the wages and hours Labor bill. This is because Labor has done so much during recent months to alienate popular sympathy, Congress might help a bad situation by notifying Labor leaders, it would defer final consideration of the Wagner bill until Labor organizations could agree on a program and put an end to the strike mania in this country.

This is election year. Country printers will have the usual number of calls for support and free space from country candidates who rush to city establishments for cards bearing the union label. The logic of the situation is for country printers to adopt a country emblem and agree to give no free space to candidates who boycott it.

When it comes to wearing apparel, women will put on anything or take off anything style authorities may suggest. Think what blessing might come to the world if style authorities could extend their influence to other fields, say by making it the style for women to make not biscuit twice a day and apple pie once a day for pa and the boys.

Testifying before a Senate Committee in Washington last Thursday, the head officer of a Southern corporation admitted that during the last five years the organization's profits amounted to $6,924,437. Asked who got the money, he stated that $6,524,437 was divided among the officers while only $400,000 went to the stockholders. He was very much opposed to New Deal policies.

It begins to look like our automobile factories will just have to close their doors and let them stay closed until workers are willing to work. For a year or more strikes have been called on every sort of a pretext. Last week two huge factories were closed because of a dues collecting campaign union officers had launched. Striking has become a mania. The time has come to discourage it. A prolonged period of idleness might bring millions of men to their senses, provided they could not have access to relief supplies of WPA jobs. One way to reduce the number of strikes is to make it unlawful for a labor leader to draw pay during the duration of a strike. He would be less disposed to order workers to cut loose from their salaries if he had to cut loose from his own.

Do readers care for church notices? This question is being debated in journalistic circles. Well, it depends on the notices. Most of them are mere blots on the landscape. Sermon topics seldom are worth the space they occupy. Asking newspapers to announce that Sunday School will be held at 9:30 and that preaching services will be held at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., is just about like asking every week that they tell at what hours and on what days school will be held. But what sort of notices should churches really run? Nobody seems to know. There is a fine field, however, for a pastor who has enough money to buy a good-sized space every week and enough journalistic skill to fill it with interesting reasons for attending church and direct information about what to do to be saved.

We asked Bildad Botts, our eminent research expert, what poor men who embark in the mercantile business must do to be saved from bankruptcy. He said emancipation from local deadbeats was their only hope. Pressed for particulars, Bildad produced a truckload of charts, diagrams and affidavits in support of a statistic he had compiled on this important matter. They showed beyond question that inability to say no to deadbeats causes more mercantile failures than are caused by drought, or famine, or sword. Asked what the lesson was from that statistic, Bildad said it was to either be a deadbeat or stay out of business when your capital is limited. A baffling thing to our eminent research expert is the extension of credit to men the small merchant knows to be deadbeats. They either mesmerize the dealer, he believes, or else capitalize on their discovery that he is lacking in guts.

Sectional M. U. Alumni Name Jas. A. Finch, Jr., Chairman

University of Missouri Alumni in a banquet of the 24th District Alumni Association elected James A. Finch, Jr., of Cape Girardeau chairman at Cape Girardeau Thursday night.

Rep. C. C. White and David Blanton, secretary of the Scott County group, attended from Sikeston.

District 24 consists of Cape Girardeau, Scott, Mississippi, Bollinger and Perry counties.

Dean Theo H. W. Irion of the University School of Education, was principal speaker. Dean Irion is a native of Cape County and once went to the Normal School at Cape Girardeau. He was graduated from the University in 1911.

"A more serious interest is being taken in the University among alumni groups," he said. "The University is not just engaged in the one simple task of making it possible for young men and women to get a college degree, but it is a part of the whole social order in which we are living, providing an entry for students in all phases of human activity.

"If education, and we speak of higher education, is left out, then some persons would rise to dictatorship. Higher education, hence, becomes a very important tool of democracy. The destruction of higher education follows the destruction of democracy."

Allen L. Oliver served as toastmaster, and several of the former students were called upon for remarks, among them Dr. W. S. Dearmont, president emeritus of the Teachers College.

Among those of this vicinity present were Ray B. Lucas, chairman of the Scott County group, and J. Edward Dickerson, both of Benton; G. Thomas Jones, Wm. B. Neate, William P. Wright and Joseph A. Webb of Charleston.

Peters-Vitality Tussle Will Fix Lead of Factory League

Supremacy of the International Shoe Factory League for at least a week will be settled Wednesday afternoon when Peters and Vitality, both having emerged winners in the opening play last week, battle to keep their names in the undefeated column.

Meanwhile, on Monday evening, the Robert Johnson and Rand team will settle with Friedman-Shelby the right to occupy the cellar position. These teams suffered defeats their first times on the diamond. One of these teams, however, will go into a tie for second place with the loser of the Peters-Vitality conflict.

Peters turned back the R-J-R aggregation, 10-7, in a fairly evenly matched game. Paul Crain allowed only two hits as his Vitality boys poured it on Friedman-Shelby, 12-1.

No doubt the first actual competition has given the managers some inkling of their men's ability under fire and some lineup shifts will be in order.

BOARD AND FACULTY DINE AT CANALOU

The Public School faculty entertained the Board of Education Tuesday evening at Canalou with a dinner and round table discussion.

The guest of honor and principal speaker was Dr. H. C. Taylor, chairman of the "Alexander Legge Foundation" for the benefit of agriculture. Dr. Taylor was head of agricultural economics at Wisconsin University for many years. He spent several years in Rome as United States representative on the International Committee on Agricultural Research. Dr. Taylor is in this section as the guest of Judge X. Caverno, president of the Canalou Board of Education. While here Dr. Taylor plans to study tenancy problems among our farm people.

Dr. Taylor is also on the present Advisory Committee on education which is now considering the problem federal aid for Voc Aid in High Schools and federal equalization for the poorer states of this country.

Accompanying Dr. Taylor are Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson.

All the faculty and board were given chance to say something by toastmaster X. Caverno and Supt. Neil C. Astin.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Caverno, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Percy, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coppage, Mr. Z. C. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. Astin, Mr. and Mrs. Alva McCollon, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grossman, Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Reid, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Giddens, Mr. A. D. Taul, Misses Wells, Conrad, Caverno and Duckett.

Visitors were Dr. H. C. Taylor, Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson.—Neil C. Astin.

Two Who Financed Treasure Hunt Cause Man's Arrest

St. Louis, May 2.—A negro was questioned by police yesterday on complaint of two men, who stated they had given him $300 during the past six months to finance a "hunt" for $23,000 that the Negro asserted he had buried near Sikeston, Mo., but now couldn't find.

The men, Cletus Geile, 2218 North Tenth street, and Vincent McCauley of Perryville, told police they had met the Negro at Cape Girardeau, where he told them of the "buried treasure."

After paying him various sums for expenses to find it, they became suspicious and reported to St. Louis police. He said he had spent their money trying to find the $23,000.

Dr. F. L. Sisson Jr., recently of Chicago, is transacting business in Sikeston this week. Dr. Sisson was a resident of this city for several years before moving to Chicago.

Kiwanis Hears Speech on U. S.-Canadian Friendship

"International Good-Will" was the subject of a talk given by George Kirk at the dinner session Friday evening of the Sikeston Kiwanis Club at the Homestead Hotel.

Mr. Kirk pointed out that for 121 years there has been peace between Canada and the United States, and that there are no bristling forts or other military evidence along the border of more than three thousand miles between the two countries. Mr. Kirk also brought out in his talk that the Rush-Bagot Treaty of 1817 primarily was for the limitation of armament on the Great Lakes, and contains a clause by which the treaty could be terminated by six months notice. This has never been done.

A letter from the prime minister of Canada, Mackenzie King, was read, and in it Mr. King stated that this was the first attempt at the limitation of armament between two countries. A letter from the International President of the Kiwanis Club was read congratulating the two nations upon the perpetual peace between them.

Other business matters were routine reports by chairman of committees. Please Malcolm, acting postmaster of Sikeston, called the attention of the club to National Airmail Week, by which Sikeston will be a beneficiary.

New members attending this meeting were Leroy Leslie, Lee Mac Dougal, and Prince A. Mac Dougal.

The next meeting will be held at the Hotel Marshall, Friday evening, May 6, when O. M. Watts will speak.

Recklessness Fine Follows Smashup

A. V. Spencer, State Highway Department employee of Jefferson City, was fined $17 by Police Judge Brown Jewell Saturday upon pleading guilty to reckless driving, a charge brought by Walter Hughes following a collision at Malone and Stoddard at 2:15 a. m. Saturday.

Spencer, it was told in court, rammed the rear end of a large truck of the Robertson Trucking Lines of Poplar Bluff just as it was starting forward after a stop-light wait. The truck was only slightly damaged but Spencer's car was badly smashed in front. He suffered cuts and bruises.

The defendant was given until Tuesday to pay the fine.

SOUTH GRADE SCHOOL TO HAVE ART EXHIBIT

There will be an art exhibit Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the South Grade School building in connection with the P-T-A. meeting, according to Prin. T. E. Stallings. Work of all six grades will be exhibited. Parents who wish to view the displays before the meeting may see them after 2:30 p. m.

TEACHERS COLLEGE TO NAME ANNUAL QUEEN

Cape Girardeau, May 2.—Final plans are being made by the staff of the Sagamore, annual publication of the Teachers College here, for the first moonlight boat excursion of the season on the Steamer Capitol which will leave the Cape Girardeau docks at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening, May 9.

The excursion is being sponsored by the Sagamore staff and the identity of the queen of the yearbook will be disclosed as the feature attraction of the evening.

STATE RURAL ROAD FUNDS DIMINISHED

Jefferson City, May 2.—A total of less than $4,500,000 can be spent for farm-to-market road construction from both state and federal funds during the next three years under the present tax rate, Colonel Claude C. Earp, chairman of the Missouri State Highway Commission, said today. In 1937 $3,088,580 was spent for farm-to-market roads. During each of the four preceding years, an average of $5,800,000 yearly was spent, he stated.

An average expenditure of $1,500,000 annually during 1938, 1939, and 1940 will mean that not more than 300 miles of roadway can be built each year of this type road. During 1937, a total of 563 miles of farm-to-market roadway was constructed. An average expenditure of $1,500,000 annually will just take up the federal aid of $750,000 for farm-to-market roads allotted to our state for 1939 and 1940—and for 1941 of federal aid is continued.

The average annual farm-to-market road program anticipated during the next five years will not be sufficient even to connect partially constructed routes on the existing system without considering the question of possible expansion, Earp said. The average cost of each mile of that type of road built throughout the entire state is slightly more than $5,000.

The farm-to-market system today, like state roads in 1923 when the $75,000,000 road bond issue was adopted, is a disconnected system, with a large percentage of its routes only partially completed and at present acting only as spurs serving limited areas. This fact becomes evident even to one unfamiliar with highway problems when a road map showing completed routes of all systems is examined.

Workers covered by the provisions of the Missouri Unemployment Compensation Law who become unemployed through no fault of their own on and after January 1, 1939, will be entitled to benefits ranging up to $15 a week for not to exceed twelve weeks per benefit year, depending on the worker's employment record.

The meeting was in charge of E. L. Risley, assisted by R. B. Pike, who welcomed the dealers to the meeting, 11th of a series for dealers, and also introduced C. Smith, assistant manager, who announced that Standard is putting the bulk of its 1938 advertising appropriation in newspapers and expects good results. The campaign is featuring low-cost driving and directs, also, attention to clean rest room service for auto travelers.
